Allan Brooks method of making bird skins

For passerine birds only Clean humerii and bind them together by a wisp of cotton after making up thin pads and lining a little stuff by wrapping pipe cleaner covered with cotton for neck.

Fill body and stuff cavity with pellets of cotton the latter overlapping to form body and neck.

Thrust thin up thorax and well into skull.
Lay pea of cotton wetted with. Thread a wisp of cotton up throat.

For some larger birds use the "Chapin stitch" through scapulars etc.
